

Initial Investigator

One of the most famous structures in the North East of England has gone missing. Bumbling investigator Ivor Clue needs your help to find out which one. Below is a series of pictures. To solve the mystery make a note of the first letter of each object. When you have done this unscramble the letters to discover the name of the missing structure. Good luck!

